Harry Frank Guggenheim Foundation	Research Grants	The foundation welcomes proposals from any of the natural and social sciences and the humanities that promise to increase understanding of the causes, manifestations, and control of violence and aggression in relation to social change, intergroup conflict, war, terrorism, crime, and family relationships, among other subjects.	Aug-13	http://www.hfg.org/rg/guidelines.htm
John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation	Fellowships	Highly competitive fellowships for advanced professionals in all fields (natural sciences, social sciences, humanities, creative arts), except the performing arts, for research in any field of knowledge and creation in any of the arts.	Sep-13	http://www.gf.org/about-the-foundation/the-fellowship/
National Science Foundation (NSF)	Cultural Anthropology Programs	Supports individual, team, or collaborative research. The Cultural Anthropology Program supports basic scientific research about the causes, consequences, and complexities of human social and cultural variability. Because the National Science Foundation's mandate is to support basic research, the NSF Cultural Anthropology Program does not fund research that takes as its primary goal improved clinical practice or applied policy. National Science Foundation (NSF)	Decision, Risk & Management Sciences	Supports scientific research directed at increasing the understanding and effectiveness of decision making by individuals, groups, organizations, and society. The program also supports small grants that are time-critical and small grants that are high-risk and of a potentially transformative nature. Funded research must be grounded in theory and generalizable.	Aug 18 & Jan 18	http://www.nsf.gov/funding/pgm_summ.jsp?pims_id=5423&or=g=SES&from=home
National Science Foundation (NSF)	Developmental and Learning Sciences Research or Workshops	DLS supports fundamental research that increases our understanding of cognitive, linguistic, social, cultural, and biological processes related to children's and adolescents' development and learning.	July 15 & January 15	http://www.nsf.gov/funding/pgm_summ.jsp?pims_id=8671&or=g=BCE&from=home
National Science Foundation (NSF)	Science, Technology and Society	STS considers proposals for scientific research into the interface between science (including engineering) or technology, and society. STS researchers use diverse methods including social science, historical, and philosophical methods. Successful proposals will be transferable (i.e., generate results that provide insights for other scientific contexts that are suitably similar).	Aug 1 & Feb 3 or 1	http://www.nsf.gov/funding/pgm_summ.jsp?pims_id=5324&or=g=SES&from=home
National Science Foundation (NSF)	Political Science Program	Supports scientific research that advances knowledge and understanding of citizenship, government, and politics. Research proposals are expected to be theoretically motivated, conceptually precise, methodologically rigorous, and empirically oriented. Substantive areas include, but are not limited to, American government and politics, comparative government and politics, international relations, political behavior, political economy, and political institutions.	Aug 15 & Jan 15	http://www.nsf.gov/funding/pgm_summ.jsp?pims_id=5418&or=g=SES&from=home
National Science Foundation (NSF)	Sociology Program	Supports basic research on all forms of human social organization -- societies, institutions, groups and demography -- and processes of individual and institutional change, and encourages theoretically focused empirical investigations aimed at improving the explanation of fundamental social processes. Included is research on organizations and organizational behavior, population dynamics, social movements, social groups, labor force participation, stratification and mobility, family, social networks, socialization, gender roles, and the sociology of science and technology. Supports both original data collections and secondary data analysis that use the full range of quantitative and qualitative methodological tools. American Psychological Foundation	Wayne F. Placek grants	Wayne F. Placek grants for empirical research related to lesbian, gay or bisexual issues.	March 1	http://www.apa.org/apf/funding/placek-rfp.pdf
American Psychological Association	Scholarships, grants and awards	APA and its affiliate organizations provide a wide range of grants, scholarships, awards with the aim of advancing the science and practice of psychology as a means of understanding behavior and promoting health, education, and human welfare.	Miscellaneous	http://www.apa.org/about/awards/index.aspx
Horowitz Foundation for Social Policy	Targeted Grants	The Foundation makes targeted grants for work in anthropology, area studies, economics, political science, psychology, sociology, and urban studies, as well as newer areas such as evaluation research. Research grants are open to scholars in all social science disciplines for projects that deal with contemporary issues in the social sciences, particularly issues of policy relevance. Preference is given to scholars in the early stages of their careers.	Jan-13	http://www.horowitz-foundation.org/

Social and Behavioral Sciences Location or Topic-Specific Opportunities

Russell Sage Foundation	Visiting Scholars Program	The Russell Sage Foundation has established a center where Visiting Scholars can pursue their writing and research. Each year, the Russell Sage Foundation invites a number of scholars to its New York headquarters to investigate topics in social and behavioral sciences. The Foundation particularly welcomes groups of scholars who wish to collaborate on a specific project during their residence at Russell Sage. While Visiting Scholars typically work on projects related to the Foundation's current programs, a number of scholars whose research falls outside the Foundation's active programs also participate. American Sociological Association	The Sydney S. Spivack Program in Applied Social Research and Social Policy	The ASA encourages applications for its Congressional Fellowship. The Fellowship brings a PhD-level sociologist to Washington, DC, to work as a staff member on a congressional committee, in a congressional member office, or in a congressional agency (e.g., the Government Accountability Office). This intensive six-month experience reveals the intricacies of the policy making process to the sociological fellow, and shows the usefulness of sociological data and concepts to policy issues. German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD)	Research and Art Study Visits	DAAD offers grants for one to three months in all academic disciplines to scholars at US and Canadian institutions of higher education to pursue research at universities, libraries, archives, institutes or laboratories in Germany.	Oct 15	https://www.daad.org/faculty
Institute for Advanced Study	Fellowship	The School of Social Science each year invites as Members up to twenty scholars from a large applicant pool. Visiting Members are expected to pursue their own research, but the School organizes a seminar on the year's focus and a weekly lunch at which Members as well as invited guests present their on-going work. The School is not wedded to any particular intellectual or disciplinary approach. It welcomes applications in economics, political science, law, psychology, sociology, and anthropology. It encourages social scientific work with an historical and humanistic bent and also entertains applications in history, philosophy, literary criticism, literature, and linguistics.
